CITY IN BRIEF.

The Possum Club invitations for their first social are being issued.

The Medical College Alumni will hold the annual meeting at 10 o'clock this morning at the College hall. Drs. Wright and Pierce will deliver addresses.

George Wolfe has received word that a brother at Kansas City and one in Europe have died. He has gone to have the first brought here for burial.

The efforts to suppress the gang of roughs on South East street, by police officer John Shea, are very much appreciated by the good people of that part of the city.

Indiana Medical College commencement exercises at the Grand Opera House this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Professor H. W. Wiley, of Washington, will deliver the address of the day.

The Supreme Court yesterday ordered a new trial in the case of Jacob Block, sentenced from Decatur county for life for the murder of Eli Frank, of Nashville, in November 1883. Block and Frank quarreled in Nashville, and the latter was killed, Elsie Block assisting his father. The new trial is ordered because Samuel Grayson, a juror in the case, was at the time a deputy prosecuting attorney.

John Wilson has been sent to the Grand Jury for petit larceny. John is a colored lad, whose profession is that of a news vender. He is accused of stealing papers. If John is guilty, he can tell the name of another paper thief.

The alarm of fire yesterday evening was caused by the burning of a roof over a kiln of brick on the E. and St. L. Road near Mount Jackson. The loss is not known, but can not be very heavy. It is thought to have caught from the kiln fires.

It is said that in the original plan for locating the town of Indianapolis, it was the intention to lay it out west of the river where the insane Hospital now stands. On account of the advantages of Fall Creek as a source of water power, the plan was changed so as to enable millers to utilize the stream in running their mills.

When the B. and O. decided to make lower rates than ever before for any inauguration, it did so in the full conviction that such concessions to the public at such times should be complete and without any reservations whatever. On other lines it would seem that certain trains are considered entirely too good for the average Washington passenger, and that a reduction in rates means simply that slow train time can be had at a less price than usual, but for first-class and modern time the old rate of not only the regular fare, but doubled, should be exacted. In other words, on the B. and O. every train, both limited and others, is open for the convenience and comfort of inauguration passengers, no extra charges being made of any description, and no attempt made at exclusiveness. On other lines inauguration tickets are not good on limited trains, and the reduction in rates is not considered to apply to them. These facts it will be advisable to remember when the time for the purchase of tickets comes.

AMUSEMENTS.

"THE TWO EMIGRANTS" AT ENGLISH'S TO-NIGHT.

Baker and Farron, the popular comedians, appear to-night and Saturday night in that rollicking comedy-drama, "The Two Emigrants," a play full of fun, good singing and dancing and acting. To-morrow night and Saturday matinee in "Max Muller," in which they have also been successful. The following is the plot of the "Emigrants": In a condensed form: Ludwig Von Yinklesteinhausen and his wife, Mrs. McGraw (the emigrants) are engaged to Abal Hogg, who has a niece formerly married to one Arthur Sidney, but subsequently divorced from him. Arthur Sidney desires a reunion, but fails, and then abducts his child and former wife on two occasions. On both occasions they are rescued by the emigrants. The niece finally gets married to one Philip Worth. At the low price of admission, fifteen, twenty-five and thirty-five cents, crowded houses should be the rule. Hearne's "Hearts of Oak" Company will be at English's all of next week, a rare treat for lovers of good scenery and acting.

"THREE WIVES TO ONE HUSBAND" AT THE GRAND TO-NIGHT at the Grand Opera House, the first performance in this city of the great Union Square Theatre comedy troupe, "Three Wives to One Husband," will take place. This is unquestionably one of the best attractions of the season, and the company furnishing interpretation to the piece is far above the average; in fact, every member of it is an artist. The performance is a masterpiece of the pretty, petite drama in one act, entitled "One Touch of Nature" in which several members of the company appear to advantage. "Three Wives to One Husband" is something new in the comedy line. And what is better still, it is really funny. None of those off-hand, nonsensical bit of trash too frequently seen on the stage, but an original piece in which ingenuity, wit and laughter go hand in hand. The cast is well filled. E. A. Rothman and Raymond Holmes as "Ralph" and "Andrew," respectively, supply most of the fun, although not a little comes from Mrs. Annie Deland as "Mrs. Carrol," Jay Hunt as "Mr. Carrol," Rodolph H. Strong as "Andrew's" uncle, and Bart W. Wallace as "Ralph's" father. If you want to laugh, "Three Wives to One Husband," it is here for the remainder of the week. Next week the popular young actor, Mr. R. L. Downing, in "Tally-Ho."

NOTES.

Matinee at the Zoo to-day at 2. Drama and specialties.

The Abbott Opera Company is heading this way, much to the delight of their many admirers here.

Hearne's "Hearts of Oak," a drama that has frequently been seen here, will be the attraction at English's next week.

The great Wallack Theater (N. Y.) success, "Victor Durand," will be the attraction at the Grand the last half of next week.

The talented young actor, Mr. R. L. Downing, supported by Miss Ida Miller and the members of Joseph Jefferson's late company, in Joaquin Miller's latest and best border drama, entitled "Tally-Ho," will hold the boards at the Grand the first half of next week. This will be one of the best attractions of the season.

The boom at the Dime Museum continues, and thousands are daily and nightly entertained by the excellent show given in all departments. Barnum's Living Skeleton in Curiosity Hall and Marsh Adams' Magnificence in the Theatrum are the principal features. It is a wonderful show for ten cents. Saturday matinee will be children's day.

Increased business at the Zoo Theater was noticeable last night. Reilly's "Widow" seemingly has caught the popular favor, and it certainly deserves it. Mr. Reilly gives a very pleasing rendition of the "Widow Dorsey," and is well supported by his company, while the introduced specialties are of the best class. Matinee this afternoon.

Knights of Honor—Election of Officers. The Knights of Honor yesterday elected the following officers of the State Grand Lodge:

Grand Dictator—Thomas H. Clapp, Indianapolis.
Grand Vice Dictator—J. B. Hill, Richmond.
Grand Assistant Dictator—J. W. Wartman, Evansville.
Grand Guide—R. Bryson, Clay City.
Grand Reporter—J. W. Jacobs, Jeffersonville.
Grand Treasurer—W. P. Godfrey, New Albany.
Grand Guardian—A. S. Lane, Vincennes.
Grand Sentinel—Jesse Cox, Westfield.
Grand Trustee—Herman Krueger, Kendallville.
Reporter to Supreme Lodge—E. J. McBride, New Albany.
State Medical Examiner—T. N. Bryan, M. D., Indianapolis.
Grand Dictator—W. G. Morris, Frankfort.
The lodge adjourned in the evening.

The steady speed and the long runs made by the "limited" trains on the B. and O. is the secret of the unparalleled time they accomplish. There is no terrific speed made on any regular running whatever attempted. To the contrary, the average rate per hour is not so remarkably fast, but the trains don't stop for fifty or more miles at a clip, and this is the way they make time.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

Mr. Staley's Bill Concerning Narcotics Passes the House.

Colonel McCollum Has Something to Say Regarding the Knightstown Home Consolidation.

Senator Foulke's bill on civil service was defeated, yesterday, by a vote of 23 to 19.

Under a suspension of the rules the Senate, yesterday, passed the House bill creating the Twenty-First, Twenty-Second and Forty-Seventh Judicial Districts.

Senator Bailey's bill prohibiting the employment in mines and factories of children under twelve years of age, failed to pass, yesterday, for want of a constitutional majority.

The bill for the reorganization of the Knightstown Home, giving the Governor power to remove trustees and officers connected therewith, was passed by the House yesterday.

Mrs. Josephine R. Nichols addressed the House yesterday in an earnest speech of fifteen minutes' duration, on the bill providing for instruction in the public schools on the effects of alcohol and other narcotics on the human system.

Mr. Staley's bill providing for the teaching in the common schools of the effects of alcohol and other narcotics upon the human system passed the House yesterday. The passage of this bill has been petitioned for from all sections of the State, and strong lobby influence has been exerted in its behalf.

The Ditch bill, which has been under discussion in the House on two or three occasions, finally passed that body yesterday. It provides for taking the appointment of Commissioners out of the hands of the Circuit Court and places it with the Board of County Commissioners, and makes a number of changes from the present law.

A large number of the delegate members of the G. A. R. Encampment which met here yesterday, visited the House and Senate yesterday afternoon, being received in the former by a speech from Speaker Jewett and in the latter by a speech from Lieutenant Governor Manson. Members of the organization made responses in both Houses.

The committee appointed to investigate the affairs of the Knightstown Home failed to report yesterday, as expected, but the findings will no doubt be reported to the House this morning. The committee was in session yesterday evening, preparing its report, and there remains no doubt that the report will declare the charges against Gear sustained and the management of the institution under Superintendent White has been very loose. The immediate removal of both Gear and White will no doubt be recommended by the report and the reorganization of the institution will be urged.

SOLDIERS' ORPHANS AND FEEBLE-MINDED.

Colonel L. C. McCollum, of Laporte, Ind., and late delegate to the National Encampment, G. A. R. which met at Minneapolis last July, favored our office with a call. He is also a member of the State Soldiers' Monumental Association, and notwithstanding his strong Democratic proclivities, he endorses our Legislature for not separating the Soldiers' Orphans' Home from the Asylum for Feeble-minded Children. He does not blame either political party for consolidating the two institutions under the same management, for it was not a party measure; both parties were responsible for it. But he regards it as unjust and injurious to the soldiers, and those who did it made a sad mistake. The two institutions should be separate and distinct from each other. The idea that the orphans of those who fell in defense of our country should be compelled to mingle together on the same playground or occupy the same building with feeble-minded children is a disgrace to our State; and those who call themselves Democrats, and in favor of this, did not get their ideas of Democracy from Jefferson, Jackson, Douglas or Voorhees. He hopes that when the investigation of the Orphans' Home is through with the end result will be made by the cooperation of both parties as will be satisfactory to all. He trusts that the present Legislature will do something toward the State Soldiers' monument. The Monumental Committee, under the auspices of the G. A. R., have raised about $4,300 for this purpose. The citizens when called upon to contribute to the enterprise responded that such a work should be paid for out of the public treasury, so that the burden would fall upon all alike. Instead of upon a few generous and patriotic contributors, therefore, the people of the State would sanction an appropriation. He reports a full attendance at the Department Encampment of the G. A. R., which is now in session and the order in a flourishing condition throughout the State. The score of patriotic poets has entirely faded away and leaves the order respected by every one.

He speaks in the highest terms of Past Department Commanders, Generals Carnahan and Ed Nicor, also Assistant A. G. Ben D. House believing them to be true Grand Army comrades and worthy of the highest esteem of every soldier in the State. He is a particular admirer of Colonel Gray and that old hero of two wars, General M. D. Manson, now Governor and Lieutenant Governor of the State, to whom the Indiana soldiers will look with pride, feeling that their interests will ever be maintained by them whatever position they may occupy.

THE GRAND ARMY.

Annual Session of the Department Encampment—Visit to the Legislature.

The annual session of the Department Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic began in Masonic Hall yesterday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by Department Commander Edward Nicor, and a call of the roll showed the officers to be present and a large attendance from the posts of the State. Commander in Chief of the National Organization, John S. Kountz, of Toledo, and Paul Vandervoort, who formerly held the same position, were present.

After prayer by the Chaplain, reports of officers were submitted and read. The annual address of the Department Commander was submitted. He reported a net gain of ninety posts during the year, and that a gain of nearly 4,000 members was a magnificent commentary on the stability of the organization. The total assets were $3,892.95, and the receipts from all sources $13,221.50; expenditures, $9,416.50; cash balance, including supplies, $4,240.92. There was distributed in aid of food sufferers $1,794.80. It was recommended that the per capita remain at five cents per quarter. Notice was given that the Women's Relief Corps had been organized at Kendallville, Jeffersonville, Brazil, Ellettsville, Elkhart, Madison, Fort Wayne, Wabash and New Albany, with Mrs. Alice E. Griffin, of Elkhart, as President. Deaths during the year in the G. A. R., ninety-three. The commander noted with satisfaction that during the year politics had been practically barred from the Grand Army, and in closing he paid a generous tribute to the work of his assistants, besides, he stated that as a believer in the one term principle he was not a candidate for reelection. Ben D. House, A. G. of this department, submitted his annual report, showing 397 posts in the State, with a total membership of 16,909, a gain during the year of 1,374. During the year fifty-four dispensations for special muster were granted.

An invitation was received to visit the Legislature at 4 o'clock, which was accepted, and the members marched in a body to the Court-house, from the tower of which the county flag was displayed during the day. The Department met after supper at the hall of the Order of Red Men, where, after the transaction of business of a routine character, the meeting adjourned to Lyra Hall for the camp fire. The election of officers will be held to-day.

A Quick Change.

A gentleman from Johnson County, who does not want to be named, has purchased property in this city, and will move here in a few days. He is yet a comparatively young man, but his hair is white as snow. This was caused by acurions incident, which occurred some years ago. He was in the fields one day at work, and was attacked by a large rattlesnake. He finally caught the reptile by the back of the neck, but it gave a sudden jump at his face and he lost his grip. The snake fell to the ground and a ruck its enemy twice on the legs, however without effect, as he wore high topped boots. He, however, jumped back as soon as possible, and after some difficulty managed to kill the reptile, from which he took thirteen rattles. Upon going to dinner some of the family jested him about having feathers in his hair. An examination showed that in a number of places the hair had turned from a jet black to a pure white. In a short time all of his hair turned white. He attributes it to his feeling of horror upon losing his hold upon the snake and it striking at his face.
